PREFACE

For the last 3 months, I have give all my best to complete this thesis as partial fulfillment of the requirement for the degree of Sarjana Ilmu Politik (S.IP) Department of International Relations of Social Politics Science Muhammadiyah University of Yogyakarta.

I presented this thesis with a big hope it can be a good references for the International Relations Study, especially for the student of International Relations in Muhammadiyah University of Yogyakarta. My under graduate thesis is "United States of America Double standards In Proposing The United Nation No Fly Zone Resolution For Libya and Syria Crisis". In this under graduate thesis, I try to give a brief explanation about why did the United States of America do a double standards by proposing the No Fly Zone for Libya and Syria? To answer the research question, I used the Realism Theory, the Concept of National Interest and the Theory of Perception.

This under graduate thesis is trying to proof that a perception of a stateman is still being a consideration for a government to make a foreign policy. As we know that United States and Libya has a very terrible relation since Muammar Gaddafi lead Libya. For those reason, Libya has been categorized as the United States enemy as what their statemen believe.

Moreover, Libya is wellknown as the oil rich state. On the other hand, United States has being fallen to an oil crisis. United States is trying to find another oil from all around the
