

ABSTRACT

This paper explains France's Efforts in resolving ethnopolitical conflict in the Central African Republic 2013-2016. France's efforts in resolving ethnopolitical conflict between Seleka and Anti-Balaka is to deploy Sangaris Operation in Central African Republic.

This Study Uses The concept of intervention by Jack C. Plano & Roy Olton, the concept of third party intervention by Fen Osler Hampson, and the concept of Peacekeeping by UN. According to the UN Security Council resolution mandate No. 2127, France deploys military intervention due to protect human rights and to support disarmament process. It uses soft-realism approach with deploy peacekeeping operation, Sangaris Operation in Central African Republic is a peacekeeping operation

Keyword: Ethnopolitical conflict, Peacekeeping, France, Sangaris Operation.