MOTTO

“I made a mistake yesterday, but yesterday’s me is still me. I am who I am today, with all my faults. Tomorrow I might be a tiny bit wiser, and that’s me, too. These faults and mistakes are what I am, making up the brightest stars in the constellation of my life. I have come to love myself for who I was, who I am, and who I hope to become.”

EXTENDED GRATITUDE

During my studies at Universitas Muhammadiyah Yogyakarta, faculty of social and political science, majoring International Relations until finally be able to complete this thesis, there were many feelings that I felt, tears and happiness come and go during my college life. During this journey, I feel so lucky and grateful to be surrounded by supportive people in my life. Therefore, I realize this undergraduate thesis would never be possible without them on my side. I would like to extend my whole hearted gratitude to:

1. Both of my parents who have been patient in raising and educating me until finally I get to this point. For my father, Sugeng Edi Satmoko, I might not verbally saying my gratitude and cares for you, but deep down in my heart I am grateful for having a father who is very responsible and caring for the family. A father, a leader, Imam for our family. Thank you Papa for being patient with the naughty and stubborn of me all this time, hopefully in the future Salma can continue to do more for Papa. For my dear Mama, Susi Rima. She is not just an ordinary mother, Mama is my best friend at the same time, friends to tell stories, complain and share experiences. Thanks to Mama who always gave the best for me until now. Hopefully in the future Salma can continue to make Mama happy. The last one is for my sister Naila Zahira. Actually there aren't too many words to say, but I want to thank to my dear sister for being born to this earth. I waited for 11 years until finally my sister came and accompanied me. Even though sometimes we are not getting along together but in my heart I still love you very much. Hopefully I will be a good example for Naila in the future.
2. I would like to thank myself for struggling at the most difficult point of my life, and never get tired of fighting. Never forget that you have the right to be loved, love yourself first, respect your parents, closest friends, and always worship God. In the past year there have been a lot of experience that you have gone through, hopefully for the following years you can get through it all. I have a lot to say but the point of all that is, I am proud of you.

3. Thank you to Dini Krn, my best friend since high school. Her little body makes her looks like a child, but she is like an older sister in my life. We struggle together from teenagers. She is a strong girl and has a lot of experience. From the past until now I have always seen her in the future and will become a successful woman, and if that happens I want to always be by her side to keep encouraging her. Love you din!
4. Thanks to my possessive friends, Nadia Suda move on and Miranda sempak. They are like my step sister while I am Cinderella. Be friends with them is like a roller coaster. Sometimes it's fun and sometimes its annoying. I also continue to pray for the three of us to stay happy and to survive until we succeed later. Beside of that, I still want to thank you guys and say love you and sucks you two!
5. I want to thank Muhammad A. Jabar E. I don't really know about this person, last year I did not know him yet he suddenly came to my life. I think we passed a "process of getting-know-each-other" between us and just suddenly "click". For me he might be more than a friend, maybe more than an older brother, maybe between that or maybe more than that. Thank you for teaching me about many things, including about the thug of life lol. Hopefully we can keep in touch in the future, thank you for being patient to be bothered by me and did not giving up on me. You are very precious, thank you!
6. For my friends Macan Sosialita. Thank you for my girls. Firstly this group was only for study groups and discussions, who knew that we were suitable for each other and became the hang-out group until now. Thanks to Aqis, Lele, Miya, Beya, Mak Vera, Miranda and Hasnaf for accompanying my days while on campus and being such a good friends and role models. It's a pity that this group has to disband... SEE YOU ON TOP GUYS!

7. Thank you friends of International Community Service to Davao, Philippines. Especially for Aqis, Ajim, Hafidz, Bian, Jijah, Aldo, Iلمان, Fadel, Surya, Arista and all my friends who I did not mention their name in here. Thank you for the experience for struggling together. Hopefully we all remain successful for the future.
8. Thank you for my IPIREL friends Andre, Taufik, Ammar, Mela and all my friends who I did not mention by name here but I hope we can meet again with our different ways but still successful in the future.
9. Thank you to my high school friends. From the "Cabang" group and then changed to the "LDR Cewe Swasta" and changed again to the "Cewe Receh" group. Thank you for always supporting me even though from a long distance. For Nadhira, Dini, Dinda, Nova and Arini, even we have our different path and ways, I hope we always continue to be healthy and be success in the future. Likewise, I also want to thank my high school friends, For King Bapur, hopefully you will continue to succeed in the future!

Last but not least, I would like to thanks to everyone who have prayed for me and supported me in so many ways.

Here, I hereby present my undergraduate thesis, may it be useful and can be source of information.
