Thereby, generation of Postmodernism Muhammadiyah, has a rights and historical moral responsibility to expand meanings which influence to the born of new values of Muhammadiyah, that may be in some certain term will be different with generation of traditional and modern Muhammadiyah era. This paper will be reached by some theories such as: Fazlur Rahman (Pre-Modernism Revivalism, Classical Modernism); M. INTRODUCTION

Muhammadiyah is a largest modern Islamic movement in the world. It was born in Yogyakarta, Indonesia on November, 18, 1912, by KH Ahmad Dahlan (the earlier former moslem thinker in classical Indonesian Islam). Nowadays, there are many challenges will be faced by Muhammadiyah, at least, for next years. To begin with, by human resources which Muhammadiyah has, it has moral responsibility in how to endorse the democratization process continuously in Indonesia through civilized culture and multicultural propagation. The momentum of the last general election in 2014 can not yet give expected solution to all of Indonesian problems because of the political reformation still was going briefly. So, the role of Muhammadiyah to empower the fundamental structure in the whole cultural spectrum of this nation for realization a nation building toward baldatun thayyibatun wa rabbun ghafur (good state) is too significant, because of that the willingness for the institutionalization of democratic values by means of civic education program carried out by LP3M (research institution) of UMY (University of Muhammadiyah, Yogyakarta) in cooperation with Majelis Dikti Muhammadiyah (Muhammadiyah Higher Education) must be realized seriously.

The socialization for this program is not just in the formal institution of Muhammadiyah education, but must also be realized at the grass-roots level of Muhammadiyah members intensively. Second, in fact, Muhammadiyah has many concepts that emerge from the organization itself. The fundamental problem of Muhammadiyah in the upcoming era, actually, is how to realize these concepts especially among the universities of Muhammadiyah for improving the practical ideas by its relevances with the needs of every region of Muhammadiyah. Every region should focus in one or two excellent programs which will be models for the reconstruction process culturally and structurally throughout Indonesia, this program seen very relevance with the autonomy of Indonesian government. Third, it is the time in all of Muhammadiyah's region to focus Muhammadiyah education system toward outcome orientation rather than output one. Both skill and entrepreneurship dimensions for the students are too significant to be apart of educational advantage which is suitable with Indonesia condition that is still far from the prosperity. Fourth, the members of Muhammadiyah who are living among the plural, multicultural and political society should have the intellectual and spiritual wisdom in how to accommodate many contextual ideas and religious facts among the Muslim ummah. On the other hand, they have responsibility as well in empowering society (taqwiyyah al-ijtima'iyah) especially among the workers, farmers and fishermen. As we know in Muhammadiyah organization there is a sub-institution which occupies.

Fifth, until now Muhammadiyah has thousands of institutions around Indonesia. But if we want to criticize, all of these institutions basically still in the ideology or theology of the "traditional-sincerity (ikhlas)-management" in determinism/jabariyyah philosophy, which has not changed to the "professionalism-sincerity (ikhlas)-management" in respect to indeterminism/qadariyyah philosophy. For the future, the good networking between professional institutions and economic department in Muhammadiyah can stop this phenomenon, and after that the quality of institutions will increase into high-level in the upcoming era. About this phenomenon, many cases found that many leaders of these institutions creates the concept of ikhlas as an ideological (theological) basis to cover the weakness or unseriousness of the leader in increasing the quality of Muhammadiyah's employees prosperity. Many leaders of institutions in Muhammadiyah always hope the ikhlas from their employees, however the leader has little sincerity to improve the employees prosperity. It is one of the serious problem among the institutions into high-level in the quality of schools, hospitals and universities of Muhammadiyah.

Sixth, Muhammadiyah must be cleaned right away from the political interest. I assume in the year of 2014 santri (religious) political aroma will go up to high tension, because of the santri (religious) politicians were failed in successive competition on the last general election 2009 which the secular-nationalist, in fact was still winning the competition. So, in the perspective of political psychology, "the political revenge" from the santri politician will be a real phenomenon. Because of that, if Muhammadiyah members are not critical in choosing the leader on the next Muktamar (general leader election) Muhammadiyah, I believe that Muhammadiyah will involve, even further, and so far – in national political competition in 2014. If this phenomenon come into being, certainly, the willingness in empowering the quality of Muhammadiyah institutions – like I cited above – will be forgotten, because most of Muhammadiyah members involve in the political competition. Consequently Muhammadiyah which has lost one (the last five years) will lost in the next five years to improve the quality of Muhammadiyah.

Muhammadiyah ought to take the real experience from other political parties or religious organization that involved in their uncivilized internal conflict and political interest. If Muhammadiyah involves in the political competition, it will lost its spiritual energy, intellect and finance just for the interest by one man or group that has a political ambition in which they haven't that constituent in this country and using Muhammadiyah just as their vehicle. From those points I like cited above, that is a significant perspective that we can explore from Muhammadiyah which it has differentiation by the other researcher of Muhammadiyah, that is about the postmodern values of Muhammadiyah and its contributions for the postmodern muslim society in the world. It is not easy, actually, for differencing between traditional and modern even the postmodern values of Muhammadiyah. Because, they are many various that we can explore from Muhammadiyah, such as organisational or institutional (AUM: Amal Usaha Muhammadiyah) values, personal and collegial values, and last but not least the normative or doctrinal values. On the other hand, we must also differencing Muhammadiyah values from its movement period (traditional, modern and postmodern age). We can also differencing from its local, national and global spectrum of Muhammadiyah movement.

For exploring the research, I just will focusing the research of Muhammadiyah into the postmodern era. On the other statement: how the organization of Muhammadiyah can developing its postmodern values which is very different from traditional and modern values. And how far its can be gives some contributions to the postmodern muslim, especially in Indonesia and its possibility to transfer the postmodern values to the global muslim in the world. There are many values that was created by Muhammadiyah, for example: honesty, humble, accountability, sovereignty, dignity, peace, check and balances, democracy, ikhlas (sincerity), etc.

Academic Approaches

This paper will be reached by some theories such as: Fazlur Rahman (Pre-Modernism Revivalism, Classical Modernism); M. Abed al-Jabiry (the concept of Bayani-Burhany-Irfany); Jacques Derrida's Deconstruction; the Structuration theory from Anthony Giddens and the Autonomization of Text and Action by Paul Ricoeur.

Traditional Muhammadiyah

Muhammadiyah in traditional era (1912-1970) is identified by the era of Muhammadiyah founding itself, where KH Ahmad Dahlan was a founder on September 18th 1912 in Yogyakarta, Indonesia. Borrowing theoretic-paradigmatic framework of Prof. Dr. Fazlur Rahman (Chicago University)¹, Muhammadiyah's logical reasoning in the era had motive:

Pre-Modernist Revivalism

This is a general motive of Islam's organization movement in 18-19 century which developed in Saudi Arabia, India and Africa. Several characteristics of Islam movement which is the Pre-Modernist Revivalism is inter-alia: has deep thoughtfulness upon people's socio-moral degradation; anti-TBC (takhayyul/mythology, bid'ah/harasy, churafat/paganism) and Sufism oriented (Islamic mysticism); anti-school of thought; opening ijtihad space; declining pre-deterministic attitude; along with realizing the existence of jihad with weapon if needed. The motive and paradigm of Pre-Modernist Revivalism generally colored Muhammadiyah movement in the traditional era. However, for the last indicator – jihad – in organizational, Muhammadiyah were not involved directly in the physical-contact of war of physical jihad. However only personal solely, concerning to the traditional Muhammadiyah was merely coinciding with Indonesia's situation which was still in the process to be independent and had many physical wars against colonialism of the Dutch and Japan in that time². In organizational, the traditional Muhammadiyah were many more struggling and doing law in field: education (kindergarten until college); founding medical clinic – recent hospital – along with help poor people and orphans³. When there is Muhammadiyah involvement in politics only have been happened at once in Masyumi's pace (Majelis Syura Muslimin Indonesia)⁴. However latter, Muhammadiyah draw their self from practice politics purposed. Some of Muhammadiyah figures also involved in constitution hassle in the early independence. Merely in personal, some of Muhammadiyah figure such as KH Ahmad Dahlan has been active in national politics hassle likes Boedi Oetomo, and also Ki Bagus Hadikusumo in parliament meetings in the early RI's independence⁵. Generally, Muhammadiyah faced colonialism challenge, Christianization and syncretism (mixing some of paganism beliefs); and still weak challenges of poverty, stupidity, healthy, society economy⁶.

¹ Fazlur Rahman, a Muslim thinker from Pakistan and his career as a Professor at Chicago University, USA. His popular work is: Major Themes of the Quran, etc. The Muhammadiyah movement has many similarities with the Gullen Movement in Turkey, which founded by Fethullah Gullen (see, Muhammed Çetin, The Gülen Movement, Civic Service Without Borders, New York, Blue Dome Press, 2010).

² Muhammadiyah was born at February, 18, 1912 in Yogyakarta, Indonesia. KH Ahmad Dahlan was a founder of this Islamic organization. Many foreign researcher cited that Muhammadiyah is the most largest modern Islamic organization in the world (see, James L. Peacock, Muslims Puritan: Reformist Psychology in Southeast Asian Islam, London: University of California Press, 1978: 24).

In value, in the first era, Muhammadiyah has not many engendered and formulated concepts and values of organizational⁷. Concern with Muhammadiyah movement in general is still sporadic and responsive-temporal or spontaneous toward society phenomenon which are existed in that time. Some work deeds of Muhammadiyah have been still developed, considers still focus of the developing cadre and organization (committee) of Muhammadiyah in Indonesia (regional), if exists, it is only as limit as concept or value: sincere, belief, pure devotion, limited fiqh, deed and the equivalences. In epistemology, logical thinking motive of Muhammadiyah in traditional era tends to – borrowing theory framework of M. Abed al-Jabiry⁸ – *bayani-textual-wahaby*⁹. The used of bayani logical reasoning is more fetched up to the understanding of textual-normative of Qu'ran and Hadith, as main references of Muhammadiyah, except ijtihad which is still limited the scope. Thus, the traditional Muhammadiyah have been also enlarged upon and fighting for the women fate (fiqh al-mar'ah)¹⁰, management system of hajj and tithes that is more effective-managerial-efficient, along with adopted organizational management system appropriates with professionalism in that era. Some publisher such as magazine

– *Suara Muhammadiyah*¹¹ – and books have been also pioneered by Muhammadiyah's organization.

Modern Muhammadiyah

Then, Muhammadiyah in modern era (1970 – 2010) – still borrowing paradigmatic-theoretical framework of Fazlur Rahman – was more colored by Classical Modernism motive of 19th and early 20 centuries, that was the influence if Western idea: expanded ijtihad content; the more intense and deeper relationship between mind and vision; social renewal of education field and women role: renewal politics and constitution; relation between Western regulation and Islam tradition; the appearing of sceptic and critical attitude toward Hadith and gender issue, health, IT, economy, etc.

In the second era, Muhammadiyah began to be established, but externally, be faced with political logical reasoning of Orde Baru (Indonesia New Order) which is “secular” and “anti-Islam”. The positive side, the organs (committee) of Muhammadiyah was more developed. Also thus some thousands work deeds of Muhammadiyah (AUM) and area expansion, where Muhammadiyah had reached in almost whole area of Indonesia¹². In conceptual and values, Muhammadiyah had also enriched qualitative ideas such as: sakinah family, public missionary, etc. There was also formulation of concept and values about AUM/PTM, that was about necessity of national leadership succession and organizational tajdid (revitalization of organization).

In epistemology, the second era, Muhammadiyah – excepted use textual-normative approach – had expanded the thought motive to the more rational-empiric, or borrowing framework of Abed al-Jabiry, used epistemology logical reasoning of burhani. In the second half, Muhammadiyah movement had established the thought paradigm which is known with jargon: *purification and dynamicization*¹³. Purification means Muhammadiyah still used logical reasoning of the traditional era – bayani logical reasoning – that is purify thought of belief and devotion, and all at once developed transcendental purification values from all destructive unsure: TBC (tahyul, bid'ah, khurafat). Then, it enriched thought with dynamics unsure in the more conceptual of Islamic thought. In values, Muhammadiyah began to consider urgency of sincere value which is enriched by professionalism value, rationalism value, etc. however in the second era, by many observers, Muhammadiyah was appreciated has more routine and intellectual saturation. In the second era appeared also the term: shibghah Muhammadiyah (Muhammadiyah orientation).

Postmodernism Muhammadiyah

Then, in the third era, Muhammadiyah's thought (2010-2050) may be categorized has entered Postmodernism era which is marked by deconstruction unsure (ala Jacques Derrida), spirituality, plurality; and declined the “big narration”, in particular Muhammadiyah. In the context of postmodernism era's Muhammadiyah appears new generation of

⁴ Masyumi was the most popular Islamic political party in Indonesia, at 1960. The founder is Mohammad Natsir, ex Prime Minister of Indonesia).

⁵ Those were: Ki Bagus Hadikusumo, Buya Hamka (Haji Abdul Karim Amrullah), etc.

⁶ See, Harry J. Benda, The Crescent and the Rising Sun: Indonesian Islam Under the Japanese Occupation 1942-1945, The Hague: W. Van Hoeve, 1958: 12.

Muhammadiyah, such as: JIMM (Jaringan Intelektual Muda Muhammadiyah Network of Muhammadiyah Young Intellectual); MIM (Madrasah Intelektual Muhammadiyah), Maarif Institute and School of Philosophy of Muhammadiyah. New Issue, concept, and values which are related with Postmodernism logical reason appears such as: human right, pluralism, fiqh of water, fiqh of natural disaster; fiqh of information fiqh of difable, fiqh of women¹⁴; internationalization of Muhammadiyah begins to develop, in particular in some colleges (Muhammadiyah University), and Special Branch Management of Muhammadiyah (PCIM) in abroad¹⁵. In the third era, Muhammadiyah begins to come up from nadir of intellectual saturation and organization routine. In the third era, Muhammadiyah begins to do revitalization of movement, especially in Subsection Management, all in once expansion of understanding of Muhammadiyah's values more contextually. A variety of new challenges such as: globalization, neo-colonialism; have emerged the other new concepts and values such as: cultural missionary; fiqh al-Ma'un (Islamic law of social service); concept ummah and citizenship; Muhammadiyah progressive, fresh ijtihad; global peace; jihad of constitution; globalism Muhammadiyah; philanthropy; along with formulation of more academic manhaj tarjih (the methodology of Muhammadiyah thought)¹⁶. In epistemology, the thought of Muhammadiyah is still in the bayani-burhani framework, but enriched by irfani nuance. One of the themes of Ramadhan study which is related with concept Ihsan in Muhammadiyah signs the irfani paradigm¹⁷. The old concept, one which is continued but by giving content of wider new meaning, in order the thought of Muhammadiyah increases ventilation and do not have insight constriction. As Mohammed Arkoun's view which stated that the Islam people in Indonesia – as another Islamic country – is facing new challenge, then needed tradition of Islamic intellectualism that is higher academic, to open new spaces of interpretation. On February 24-26th 2015, Tarjih Committee of Muhammadiyah together with Maarif Institute will hold Islamic Law of Plurality). Then also the other concepts those are spirit of anti-corruption (clean governance¹⁸); resurrecting critical tradition in Sunni's world which has been lost in the long time such as philosophy, and also theosophy and science (example: science boarding as ijtihad of the second century of Muhammadiyah).

¹⁶ About those current issues, see: Majelis Tarjih Muhammadiyah, Fiqh al-Ma'un; Abd. Rohim Ghazali, Muhammadiyah Progressif. Manifesto Pemikiran Kaum Muda, Jakarta: JIMM-LESFI, 2007; Majelis Tarjih, Manhaj Tarjih Muhammadiyah.

¹⁷ In every Ramadan month, Muhammadiyah always holds the annual meeting for discussing many current issues in Indonesia and global area. The participants are selective members and Muhammadiyah leaders whose arrive from around Indonesia.

¹⁸ See book, Fikih Antikorupsi, Perspektif Ulama Muhammadiyah, MTT PP Muhammadiyah and Governance Reform in Indonesia, 2006.

Then also need a movement: new "TBC" (tahyul/imagination; bid'ah/innovation; churafat/positive mythology). Related with new reading towards the concepts and values of Muhammadiyah which contain in the way of, can use interpretation framework of hermeneutic model by Paul Ricoeur about the autonomization of text¹⁹, that as a discourse – especially concept and values of Muhammadiyah in the first and second era – are poured in the written of text, then the concept and values have been getting loose from the author supervision (author) and begins "the life" itself. The reader – in the context is generations of Postmodernism Muhammadiyah – which will determine property or vacuum, expansion or restriction, disobedience or reactivation of a text, includes variety of meaning in the way of. The reader – generations of Postmodernism Muhammadiyah – may not receive a text by understanding all the meaning whole. As a statement follows "every author is originally a reader, while not every reader is an author".

Thereby, generation of Postmodernism Muhammadiyah, has a rights and historical moral responsibility to expand meanings which influence to the born of new values of Muhammadiyah, that may be in some certain term will be different with generation of traditional and modern Muhammadiyah era. Borrowing deconstruction theory of Jacques Derrida, generation of Postmodernism Muhammadiyah have to do breaking off paradigm, concept and value content of the old Muhammadiyah that traditional-local and modern-rational; to the new values which is more global-spiritual-plural and humanist insight which is more universal. Realization of the new values very depends on progressivity and creativity of the Postmodernism Muhammadiyah generations itself. By borrowing structurization theory of Anthony Giddens: the actor or cadre of Muhammadiyah in postmodernism era must act as active, creative and innovative agent to observe and investigate variety challenge of structure domination – politics, economy, social and culture – and correlation with space and time dynamics that around the agent²⁰.

Relevance and Contextualization of New Muhammadiyah Values

From those points I like cited above, that is significant perspective that we can explore from Muhammadiyah which has differentiation by the other researcher of Muhammadiyah, it is about the postmodern values of Muhammadiyah and the contributions for the postmodern Muslim society in the world. The new Muhammadiyah values, those are: a) ritual and eschatology; b) humble and honesty; c) accountability and transparency; d) dignity and sovereignty; e) peace and moderation²¹; f) religious democracy²²; g) open minded and criticism²³; h) sincerity and professionalism²⁴; i) social service²⁵; j) dialogue of civilization; k) universality and humanity²⁶. After that, the last point is how to realize the new perspective of Muhammadiyah values among the Muslim society and global postmodern world?

Internalization of Muhammadiyah's Thought

In the thought field, Muhammadiyah actually has had many thought inheritance which is not only useful to Indonesian context, but can be offered more universally to the international world. Some of the thought abstracts can become starting point for the developing of Muhammadiyah's thought in the future: First, Muhammadiyah should select variety inheritance which is existed then interpreted into foreign language in each country that is related with contemporary issues needed²⁷. Second, in national Indonesian, Muhammadiyah can also overspread some new views about Islam of the Indonesian archipelago as encompassed in some science meetins in ACIS (Annual Conference of Islamic Studies) – now become AICIS (Annual International Conference of Islamic Studies)²⁸ – that every year is managed
