ABSTRACT

The main objective of this study is to analyze the influence of macroeconomic variables to stock returns of 10 companies listed in Jakarta Islamic Index (JII) Indonesia Stock Exchange Market in the Arbitrage Pricing Theory framework and further conduct stock returns forecasting under Vector Autoregressive Model estimation. The macroeconomic variables in this study consist of Bank Indonesia interest rate, costumer price index, Brent international oil price and trading volume. The stock returns of 10 companies listed in JII and the selected macroeconomic variables are monthly panel data starting from December 2007 to January 2013. The result of this study indicates negative influence of Bank Indonesia interest rate and Brent international oil price towards stock returns of 10 companies listed in JII. In addition costumer price index had positive influence to stock returns of 10 companies listed in JII. Meanwhile, trading volume had no causal relationship with stock returns; therefore, it cannot be involved in the Vector Autoregressive model. Impulse responses and Variance decomposition analysis results indicate that costumer price index had dominant influence to stock returns of 10 companies listed in JII rather than Bank Indonesia interest rate and Brent oil price. Schwarz Information Criteria (SIC), Akaike Information Criteria (AIC) and Automatic recommend lag 5 in this study. Finally, The estimated Vector Autoregressive VAR(5) predicts negative stock returns in year 2013.

Keywords: macroeconomic variables, stock returns, Jakarta Islamic Index (JII), Arbitrage Pricing Theory, Vector Autoregressive (VAR), Schwarz Information Criteria (SIC), Akaike Information Criteria (AIC), forecasting

INTISARI

Penelitian ini bertujuan untuk menganalisa faktor-faktor makroekonomi yang mempengaruhi return saham 10 perusahaan Jakarta Islamic Index (JII) dalam kerangka pemikiran Arbitrage Pricing Theory. Pada akhir penelitian ini dilakukan peramalan return saham dengan menggunakan model Vector Autoregressive. Faktor-faktor makroekonomi yang digunakan dalam penelitian ini adalah suku bunga Bank Indonesia, indeks harga konsumen, harga minyak dunia and volume perdagangan. Data return saham dan faktor-faktor makroekonomi dalam penelitian ini adalah data time series bulanan dari Desember 2007 hingga Januari 2013. Penelitian ini menunjukkan pengaruh negative suku bunga Bank Indonesia dan harga minyak internasional terhadap return saham di JII. Penelitian ini juga menunjukkan pengaruh positif dari indeks harga konsumen terhadap return saham JII. Sementara itu volume perdagangan tidak menunjukkan hubungan sebab akibat dengan retrun saham JII, sehingga, variable ini tidak digunakan dalam pembentukan model Vector Autoregressive. Analisis Impulse Response dan Variance Decomposition dalam penelitian ini menunjukkan CPI sebagai faktor dominan yang mempengaruhi return saham di JII dibandingkan dengan suku bunga bank Indonesia dan harga minyak dunia. Penelitian ini menggunakan lag 5 berdasarkan rekomendasi Schwarz Information Criteria Akaike Information Criteria (AIC) dan Eviews7. Pada akhir penelitian Vector Autoregressive VAR(5) menunjukkan adanya prediksi return saham negative pada tahun 2013.

Kata kunci: faktor-faktor makroekonomi, return saham, Jakarta Islamic Index (JII), Arbitrage Pricing Theory, Vector Autoregressive (VAR), Schwarz Information Criteria (SIC), Akaike Information Criteria, peramalan
