

ABSTRACT

Cooperatives is a reflection of economic democracy. The production is worked by all, for all under the leadership or members of the society. The prosperity for society and members is the main and not individuals. Cooperative economic is milestone and also locomotives or driving various resources they have an area that can foster and promote the economy in areas including West Nusa Tenggara. Good cooperative is cooperative with the performance of sound. This study aims to determine the effects of business volume, capital loans and own capital to added value of cooperatives (SHU) in the province of West Nusa Tenggara during 2009-2014. The analytical tool used in this research is data panel. The analysis showed that the volume of business has positive and significant impact on added value of cooperative, loan capital and own capital also has positif impact and significant on added value of cooperatives.

Keywords: Added Value of Cooperatives (SHU), Business Volume, Loan Capital, Own Capital.